Learning Disability and Mental Health Services

- 9.00 Opening from the Chair
Kathy Roberts, Chief Executive – Mental Health Providers Forum
- 9.15 Keynote: The Policy Landscape for Learning Disability and Mental Health
What is the policy landscape for learning disability and mental health? How is transforming care progressing? What effect is the Government's commitment to mental health service reform having? What impact are delayed transfers of care having on both sectors? What is the impact of austerity? This presentation will explore the policy overview for both sectors.
Mental Health Foundation
- 9.45 From Policy to Practice – Making it Work
Targets for the Transforming Care agenda have been continuously missed, however, everyone agrees that people should be supported in the community. What can providers do? What are the common barriers and how can they be overcome? Also, how can providers help address delayed transfers of care? What work is being undertaken in DToC and reducing out of area placements? This presentation will advise providers on how they can help put policy into practice using examples of what is already working.
Steph Thompson, Managing Director – Waymarks and Kathy Roberts, Chief Executive – Mental Health Providers Forum
- 10.15 Regulation and Inspection Across Learning Disability and Mental Health
With the new assessment framework underway, what do providers need to know? What are the new Key Lines of Enquiry and how can providers work towards them? How are learning disability services and mental health providers performing in quality ratings? What are the developments with Registering the Right Support and what do providers need to know for existing and future services?
Care Quality Commission (invited)

- 11.15 Looking to the Future – Market Opportunities and Registering the Right Support
With the CQC having published Registering the Right Support, what does that mean for the market and for providers looking to expand their services? What does it mean for the shape of provision and the design of new services? Have there been any challenges to Registering the Right Support? What impact will these have on sector development?
Stuart Marchant, Partner – Bevan Brittan
- 11.45 Employment Law, Sleep-ins and Beyond
With back pay for under-payment of national minimum wage due to sleep-in shifts causing issues around the sector, what is the current situation? What do providers need to know and do to ensure they're paying the correct minimum wage? Also, what other employment law considerations should providers of learning disability and mental health services be aware of?
